Product Description

Kids can enjoy the excitement of a merry-go-round ride while still getting in the exercise they need with the unique and fun merry-go-cycle. This playground equipment option seats five and is a perfect addition to a playground. For ages two through five, this product can be the favorite of your local community's kids. Merry-go-round rides are a staple of many different playgrounds across the country, but this cycle-style product offers more exercise and safety compared to its larger counterparts.

The merry-go-cycle allows children to propel the device around in circles while pushing their own pedals. Kids can grow strong leg muscles as they spin around this merry-go-round. Playgrounds for smaller children rarely focus on building lower-body strength and motor skills, and this bicycle-like product can fill that essential physical activity need. In addition to being able to develop these kinds of skills, children can also get a sense of cooperation, developing important social skills as they all do their part to spin faster. This one play piece can promote several different skills: physical, social, and communal. That's not bad for one merry-go-round!

Features: - Relatively light and easy to move with some help - 5 bicycle-like seats - Red and black metal frame
