Product Description

Kids can climb the vertical ladders on the sides and reach the top, where they can relax and sit atop the nylon ropes. The ropes on top are firm, nylon-wrapped steel cables that are able to handle multiple kids at once. They can also go up through the manhole to ascend to the top. Whatever a kid feels like doing, this structure will be sure to have it. Best of all, they will be exercising while having fun. Climbing is a great way to build upper body strength, improve hand-eye coordination, develop kinesthetic awareness, and foster imaginative play.
